

Dual Features Spark Multi-Sensory Learning

When students sing and read, it sparks auditory and visual processing in the brain, leading to multi-sensory learning, which is especially beneficial for children with dyslexia and other language learning challenges.

